PROGRAMME

“THE STATE OF STREET ARTS IN EUROPE”

In the quest for a European identity and democracy, arts and culture are common threads that can unite us all, transcending the diversity of the many nations of Europe.

Street arts has a unique ability to join all people, regardless of background, nationality, and economic circumstances. It transcends linguistic or geopolitical limits. It offers a highly public platform for freedom of expression and invites audiences and artists to re-evaluate the cities, towns and public places where it takes place. This gives street arts a global dimension, which transcends all boundaries, creating an art form with a high potential for touring the whole world and reaching the widest possible audience.

Thanks to this potential, there are a lot of associations, festivals, institutions or artists that are working on a transnational level. We are all working hard for the development, visibility and recognition of street arts. These networks include Circostrada, In Situ, EFETSA (European Federation of Education and Training in Street), IFAPS (International Federation of Arts in Public Space) and many others.

But there is still a lot of work to be done. That's why we are here today.

We are drafting our future on a European scale. This is the core of FRESH STREET#1. To pave the way for the sustainable development of street arts, we need to reflect together on their challenges and potentials, and on how they contribute to a Cultural Europe.

Convinced that this can only be achieved through a dynamic dialogue with cultural players from all art forms and backgrounds, journalists, researchers, spectators and policy makers, we invite you all to take part in the discussions and debates of the next days.

The future of street arts is in our hands. Let's be responsible, let's advocate, let's participate, let's activate, let's celebrate and let's work together and build a better Europe through street arts.

The FRESH STREET#1 Work Group

INTRODUCTION

Circostrada Network, in partnership with FiraTàrrrega, is proud to present FRESH STREET#1, its first European Seminar for the Development of Street Arts. Gathering more than 200 cultural players, this flagship event is a unique opportunity to present an overview of the sector in Europe today and to reflect on how we can imagine the street arts of tomorrow.

For the first time, an internal work group of the network, gathering cultural organisations engaged in street arts from 8 European countries designed the contents of this one-of-a-kind seminar. Together, and each with their unique vision, they have created this exciting programme: three full days for reflection and exchange of know-how with the aim of establishing a “raison d'être” and drawing up a series of recommendations for the structuring and development of street arts in Europe.

Circostrada Network, coordinated by the French national resource center for circus and street arts HorsLesMurs, is thrilled to start this new series of seminars and aims to make FRESH STREET a bi-annual event, creating a new not-to-be-missed rendezvous for all cultural players and grounding the reflection on the evolution of street arts on a European scale.

We are very grateful that FiraTàrrrega - one of the key street arts events in Europe - has accepted to host this first and exciting edition.

GENERAL ORGANISATION OF THE 3-DAY SEMINAR

FRESH STREET#1 is an open debate to discuss the “matters that matter”: the street arts of the future. It aims to be a constructive debate among equals about how to address the main issues facing the present and future of street arts.

To do so, the Work Group has structured the programme for this first edition in 3 main panels, 4 tailored sessions, 1 outdoor activity and 1 main networking meeting throughout 3 days of intense discussion. All sessions are facilitated and led by renowned professionals from all over Europe. Experts from non-European countries and other sectors will also take part, providing the discussion with an even broader perspective.

TWO MAIN PANELS WITH THE PARTICIPATION OF ALL THE DELEGATES

An opening panel “State the Street Arts in Europe”

Members of networks and representatives of institutions will lead the first debate to examine the current state and role of street arts in Europe, with the aim of provoking a vivid open talk between the panel and the floor.

A panel of artists to open Day 2

All delegates are invited to talk about the aesthetics of street arts, to identify the artists' needs and further important goals for the future of the sector. Artists, promoters, institutions will all have a say.

FOUR SIMULTANEOUS TAILORED SESSIONS TO DISCUSS KEY TOPICS

Public space, advocacy, mobility and training will be the issues tackled in these sessions. Delegates are invited to choose the topic they wish to discuss with their fellow colleagues over two 90mins open talk sessions. Every session will end with a list of headlines to be presented in the closing session of the seminar.

TWO ACTIVITIES TO MEET AND SHARE

A RELAY to experience the public space

A game that explores the city. All delegates are invited to participate in an activity that will lead them to bond, to get to know the town of Tàrrrega, to look at public spaces with a different approach. Join the line!

Breakfast al fresco

Delegations from all Europe and beyond are taking part to Fira Tàrrrega. Delegates are invited to meet with these colleagues from around the world who will join them for an informal open-air breakfast.

THE CLOSING SESSION TO DRAW THE ROADMAP FOR THE FUTURE OF STREET ARTS

We will draw together the conclusions of the seminar, summarise the main contents that emerged through the panels and highlight goals for the street arts.

This will be a first “manifesto” for the future of the sector, and the conclusions of the seminar will soon be published by Circostrada, accessible for free to all online (www.circostrada.org)

DAY 1

OPENING PANEL
"THE CONSTRUCTION OF EUROPE THROUGH STREET ARTS"

The richness of Europe is in its cultural diversity, where street arts highlights our democratic rights, identities and voices, representing, communicating and building our society for the future. The diversity of Europe (socially, politically, economically) has determined the different speeds of development of the sectoral policies within each country during the 20th century. Key witnesses of the evolution of street arts give a broad overview of the place and role of street arts in today's Europe and of the goals to seek for the future.

An open talk between the panel and the floor to present an initial "state of the street arts" in Europe in the 21st century.
