What if you could have a chance to shape the future of fair working practices across the contemporary circus and outdoor arts sector? This Collaborative Input Session is designed to map existing unfair practices and establish the key research questions and scope for a participatory research aimed at addressing the working conditions within contemporary circus and outdoor arts in Europe. Through facilitated discussions and breakout groups, you will connect with others in the field to discuss the challenges and needs faced by artists and professionals at all levels. Your insights and experiences will directly inform a policy brief focused on creating fair practices and equitable working conditions to be addressed at various stakeholders and policy makers in 2026.
	For the rest of the members, either free time , or check out what is happening in the frame of the BIAC Professional Meeting programme!
