.THEORY

In the 1970s, thanks to the commitment of the traditional circus artists and cultural activists French Circus went through reforms and initiated a new phase in the history of movement arts. The French model of circus and culture has become a symbol of innovation and artistic courage. Circus art in France and Canada is now part of the cultural heritage, is an art recognized and supported by the state.

It was 10 years ago when first enthusiasts have taken steps to ennobel circus in Poland. In 2005 a group of passionate of circus, juggling and street performances organized in Poland first Festival of New Circus and Theatre in Wrocław (2004 Association The-at-er, 2005 Middle European Circus-Theatre Meeting). Due to the lack of other data I have taken this date as the beginning of the development of New Circus in Poland.

This guide is an attempt to summarize the decade and gather information about the current landscape of the modern Polish circus and street art. This publication includes also initiatives in the field of outdoor art and public space (not necessarily identifying themselves with the circus but often presenting it in its activities) and certain commercial initiatives as well as traditional circus.

I hope that this Guide will contribute to the popularization of national artists, producers, educators and their projects as well as help in the development and recognition of outdoor theatre and circus as an art form in Poland.

The guide includes all send texts and I have added other existing initiatives for which source of the information was the Internet. I did not judge the projects, but qualified it to different departments:

- .01 Education: classes, workshops, social projects and festivals for children and young people*
- .02 Artistic projects: collectives, circuses, artists gathering within organizations, informal groups and performances*
- .03 Inspired by the circus: the projects undertaken by people not necessarily engaged in this field of art*
- .04 Artistic agencies: the initiatives working as agencies and on the global markets*
- .05 Festivals: circus and outdoor*

Marta Kuczyńska - (Arta.Ku) Kejos

This guide is also a summary of the Conference of the New Circus and Art in Public Space, which was held during Carnival Sztuk-Mistrzów in Lublin on 23-25 July 2014. Publication prepared by Marta Kuczyńska, assisted by an artistic – research platform Kejos contains basic information about events, groups, performances, organizations, initiatives and projects in the field of circus and art in public space in Poland.

The conference was dedicated not only to the scientific aspects of research on the circus, but it also attempted to integrate the performing arts communities, researchers and artists associated with the current New Circus, popularizing circus as the art form and an object of study. Conference program consisted of two parts: Scientific (lectures of researchers and selected from the submitted proposals) and Practical (presentations of projects, groups and artistic initiatives). It was attended by 200 spectators and invited guests from the Poland and Europe.

We hope that this meeting of artists, producers, animators, researchers, and The Guide will contribute to the development of our disciplines, to mutual understanding and to recognition of the circus and outdoor activities as an art form and field of research. Thank you for your activity and inspiration. We invite you to have a look to current image of modern art in Poland in this Guide.

Conference organizers:

Circus (especially so-called New Circus, growing rapidly since 1970s), found its important place in the cultural and social landscape of the world. It is also a subject of research in field of aesthetics, art theory, art criticism, pedagogy and science. Contemporary circus has an expressive social face; it enters into relationships with many fields of art; it creates refined artistic language within the performing arts.

Since decade these kind of artistic and cultural initiatives appears also in Poland.

CIRCUS AS AN ART FORM AND AN OBJECT OF STUDY

Modern humanities indicates process of moving culture and arts to different from inherited areas of creation and cultural participation. In an attempt to capture unstable object of study, the researchers of performing arts go beyond the safe territory of "high arts", they identify the areas outside of the traditional canon, considered marginal but with high cultural and artistic potential.

Traditional Circus as well as Modern Circus are model examples of subject of studies, displaced beyond the convention of scientific discourse.

The history of circus in Poland is still "untold" and "unwritten" and its modern evolution (often completely different from the traditional) are out of a spectrum of perception of the Polish art criticism, or – more widely – humanistic reflection.

CIRCOSTRADA NETWORK

is the European network for outdoor arts and contemporary circus dedicated to information, observation and professional exchanges. Working for the development, structuring and recognition of these sectors in Europe, it gathers today 66 members from 24 countries in Europe and abroad.

It was co-founded and is coordinated by HorsLesMurs, the French national resource centre on circus and outdoor arts.

Since 2003, Circostrada Network develops key actions such as bi-annual general meetings, seminars and research, creating a forum allowing for collaborations, capacity-building and professional representations. Inside this wide panorama of activities, Circostrada Network has always placed a strong focus on the dissemination of information for professionals from outdoor arts and contemporary circus throughout Europe.

In August 2014, the network has been selected for European co-funding in the framework of Creative Europe program for its new 3-year project.

Benefiting from its 10-year experience, its recognition in Europe and the high number of its members, the network develops new focuses, representative of the evolution of these sectors with audience development, innovation and observation amongst the key topics developed.

In this new step of its development, Circostrada Network also strengthens and furthers its core values, at its heart since its foundation: professional exchanges, dissemination of information, advocacy, and the work on different scales of territories.

To achieve this, the network develops a broad spectrum of activities such as creative workshops, European seminars and focus meetings. Six internal Work Groups and 3 pilot programs ensure the development of the network's strategic projects and the experimentation of innovative formats.

The pilot observation program "CSHubble" aims at gathering strategic information on the sector of contemporary circus and outdoor arts, with a specific focus on the exploration of new issues and lesser known territories.

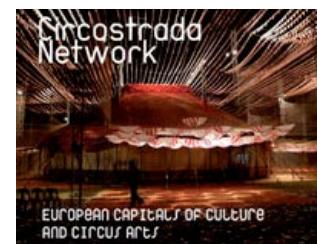

Circostrada Network regularly publishes studies and guides to better observe these fields and to facilitate the circulation of artistic works, the mobility of cultural professionals and the access to literature relating to these specific sectors.

Some examples of the latest studies of Circostrada Network:

SAWA #3: TOWARDS A FRAMEWORK OF REFERENCE (2013).

This study is the result of the third meeting of the Street Arts Winter Academy, which gathers European professionals and academics to work on designing a European frame of reference for the training of street artists. The next edition of SAWA will take place in Maribor, Slovenia in March 6-8 2015.

ECOC AND CIRCUS ARTS (2013).

Circostrada Network, in partnership with the Dutch festival Circo Circolo, started in 2011 a series of seminars to analyse the relationship between cities involved in the European Capitals of Culture programme and the circus arts field, bringing circus stakeholders, European Capitals of Culture teams and policymakers around the same table. The next ECoC seminar will take place in Marseille, France in February 8-9 2015.

PUBLIC POLICIES SUPPORTING CIRCUS AND OUTDOOR ARTS IN EUROPE: 8 EUROPEAN PROFILES (2014).

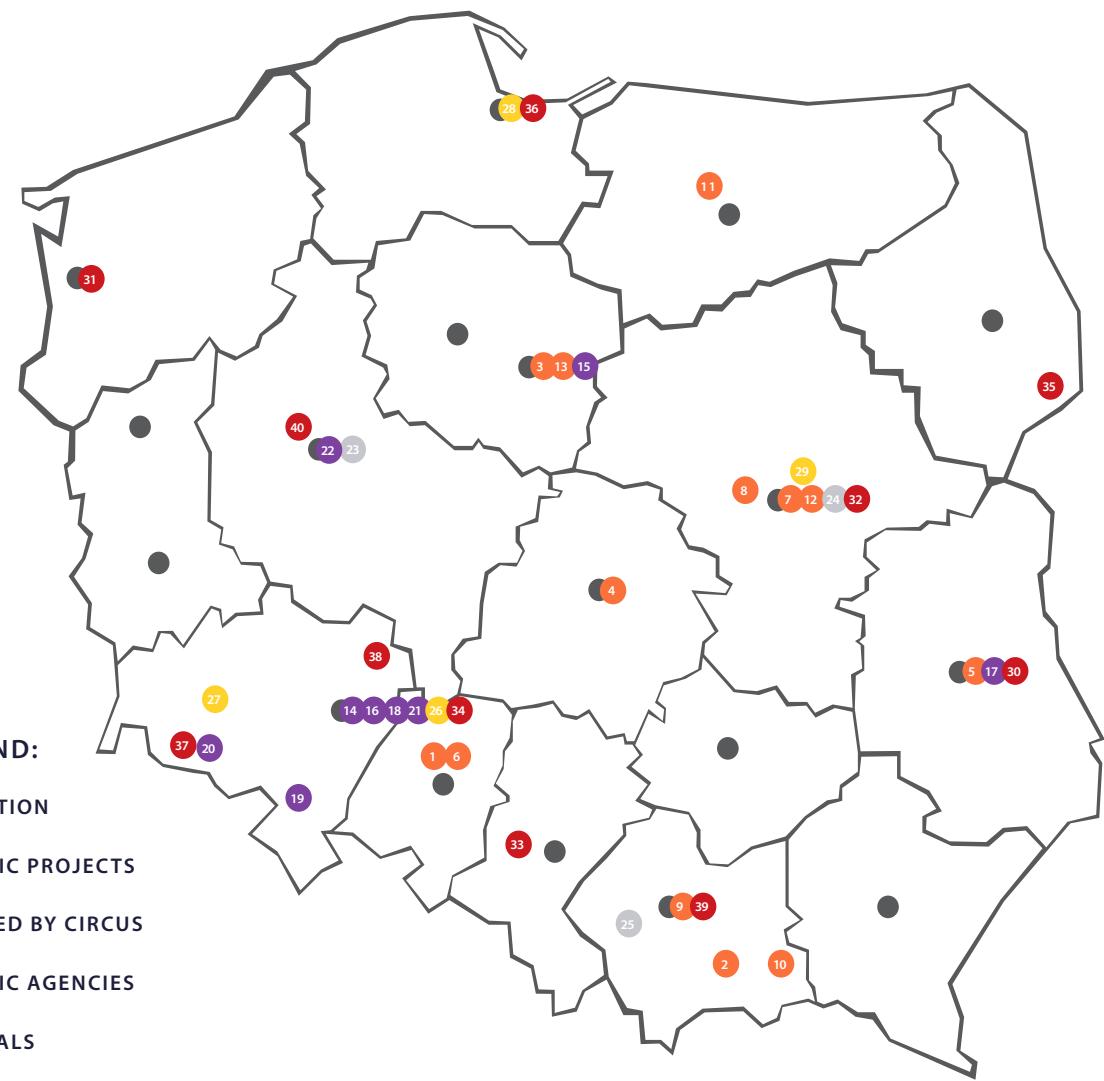

Circostrada Network organized four European seminars for Policy Makers working in Arts Councils, Ministries in charge of Cultural Affairs or institutions promoting Arts & Culture abroad.

All the publications can be downloaded free of charge on Circostrada Network's website.

BANDIT QUEEN CIRCUS

WROCŁAW

Bandit Queen Circus is a project offering the audience entertainment embedded in the aesthetics of the circus. The first performance "It's a Freak Show" took place on May 25, 2012. Referring to the idea of New Circus project BQC is not working as a stationary or "touring" circus, but is consistently realizing its activities in theaters, arts festivals or commercial events. The point of BQC projects undertakes implementation of the dreams and ambitions in an understandable and accessible way, with a high level of unique visual aesthetics. Entertainment, which project proposes is intended to be clear, but not trivial. Programs for adults are focused on moving the senses and emotions. The repertoire for children stirs the imagination and encourages both children and parents, to creative activities. BQCartistic programs are based on original ideas: including its own studio for costume and set design.

KEJOS: ART & RESEARCH PLATFORM

WROCLAW

Since 2004 Kejos gathers independent artists, scientists and producers creating arts from the borders of circus, physical theater, multimedia, art in public space and other open forms of communication with audience. Kejos activities circulate around 3 main subjects: Art / Science / Organization

The main pole of activity is Art: creating shows of the modern circus and theater. The current shows:

Pitagoras pro-ject is a solo show, inspired by the ideas of the ancient philosopher and mathematician, in which light, video and music are the partner for the actress – juggler.

Garbage Show - group show (10 people) about world overflowed with garbage and a group of people who build with garbage fools ship and depart to the land of happiness and health.

Clowns Crumbs - international clown show based on the text Mistero Buffo of Dario Fo, referring to the tradition of traveling comedians who in different languages conveys information about the modern world.

KEJOS, GARBAGE SHOW PHOT. JUSTYNA SZYSZŁO

Scientific part of activities is popularization of the New Circus as an art form and subject of research by organizing Conference of New Circus and Art in Public Space and conducting virtual archive of texts and studies of the Circus and the Outdoor Art in Polish. (available on www.kejos.org/ar)

Organizational activity circulates from creating programs for cultural events (such as: cooperation with Carnival Sztuk-Mistrzów or Brno Juggling Convention...) through directing to the organization of residencies and artistic productions.

Legal Body of the platform is the Association Kejos The-at-er (created in 2004, organizer of first New Circus festivals in Poland), promoting art and artists of the new circus. The Association runs a small training space in Wroclaw (Open Training Space - Otwarta Street 14a) and supports the initiatives of the platform. Kejos The-at-er is a member of Cirkostrada Network and represents Poland in its ranks.

THE OUT OF A SUITCASE THEATRE

WROCŁAW

Theatre was created in 2005 by 3 actors: Anna Went, Łukasz Jędrzejczak, and Oleg Yemtsev - a Russian comedian and mime. The Theatre developed through cooperation with many actors from all over the world and was performing at many theatre events and street theatre festivals in Poland and abroad. Its performances are understood by everyone, regardless of age and nationality. Roots are in pantomime but interests are much wider. Theatre finds inspiration in films from the silent era (Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton), the contemporary Russian clowning and improvisational theatre. The repertoire mostly includes comedies in the convention of street theatre and visual comedy.

THEATRE OF THE EIGHTH DAY (TEATR ÓSMEGO DNIA)

POZNAŃ

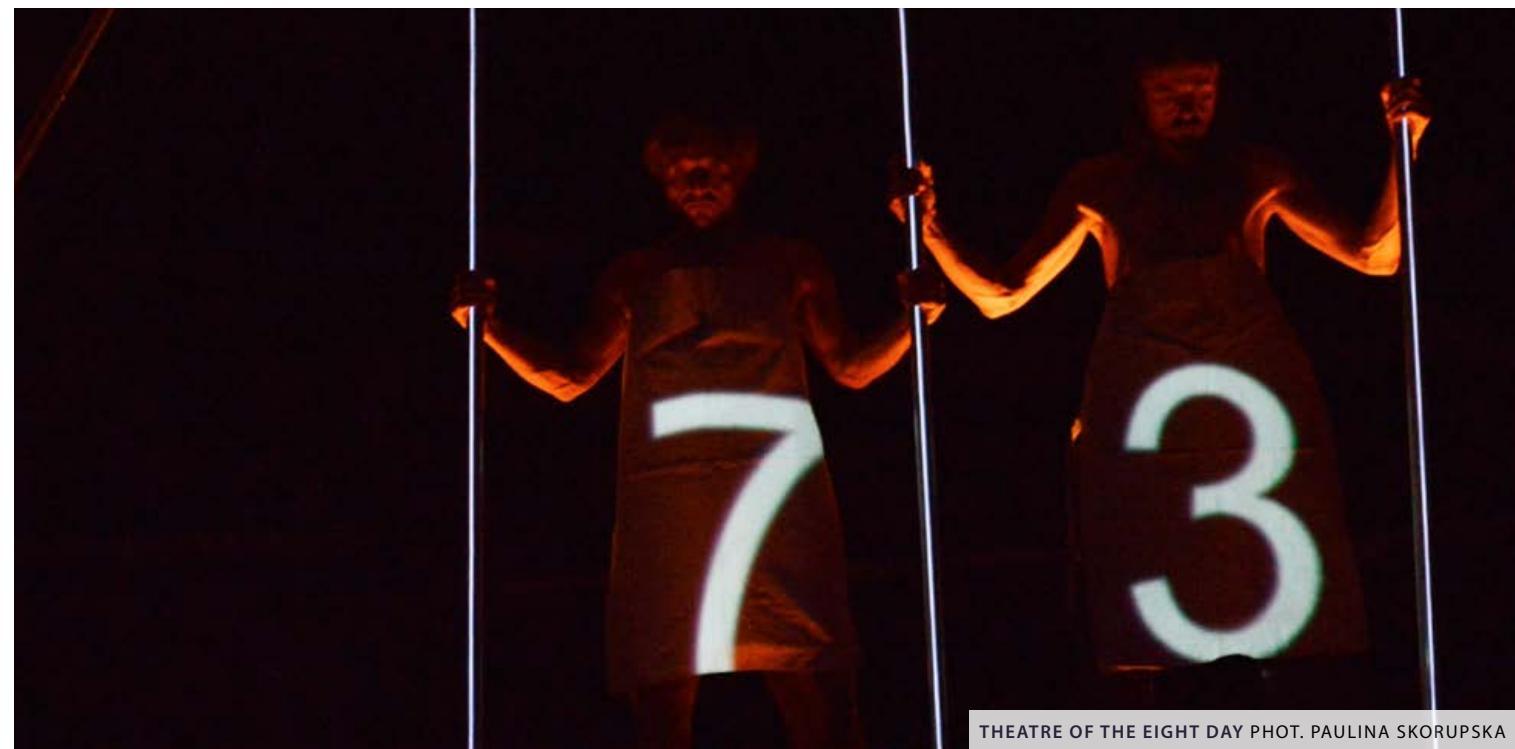

Theatre was founded in 1964 by students from Poznan University of Polish studies. In the 70s has gained a reputation as one of the most important alternative theaters in Poland. Oppositional, political performances led to the forced emigration of theater artists in times of communism. Theatre of the Eighth Day represents most of all aesthetics of acting improvisation. Characteristic for Poznan "eights" are also performances beyond the frames of a theater stage, arranged in urban space shows with social and political contexts. In search for new forms Theatre of the Eighth Day uses the formula of documentary theater and outdoor performance. Theater also focuses on education and cultural actions - organized workshops, meetings and residences are a chance for young artists who need space for the development of artistic activity.

CIRCUS FERUS

POZNAŃ

Circus Ferus is a group of people pursuing projects invented by themselves. The group was founded in 2012 in Poznan. This open group is composed of theater artists. Circus Ferus can be translated as “wild circus” (from Latin), that’s because in addition to the performances in the “classic” style, they do projects that exceed the limits of theatricality, often “go out to the people”: on the streets, in the web, in unexpected places.

THRESHOLD THEATRE

WADOWICE

Since 2005 cooperates with Cultural Centre in Wadowice. Theatre since 2011, is working within the framework of the Association "Group Threshold". In addition to artistic activity Threshold does cultural and educational projects. Many years of inspiration in circus arts (mainly visible in archival performances realized in 2010 and organized in 2009 - 2012 Festival "Art-Action: Art beyond boundaries") found its continuation in the Family Picnic "Circus wow!", which combines educational, social and artistic matters.

NU-ART

GDAŃSK

Nu-Art is a group of artists and performers with long experience. "High artistic and spectacular shows – that's what we care about". They associate and promote the people and events connected with the New Circus and juggling. Agency exist since 2013, but roots go back to the Flagrantis – fire show group (8 years of existence, laureate of fire competitions). They regularly visit juggling and circus festivals in Poland and abroad (EJC), cooperate with performers and groups with experience and achievements, are open for new interdisciplinary phenomenon. They love performance, street shows, juggling and contemporary circus. They like to prove that alternative form of circus is a real art. They work as animators of juggling community in Pomerania and support similar initiatives in Poland. They co-organized: Festival of Rhythm and Fire FROG in Gdynia, Festival of Fire in Rowy, "Manufacture of Fire" in Łódź and cooperated with Academy of Juggling in Gdynia. They are winners of government competition. Plans for future are: to turn Agency into a NGO and work more actively on the image and development of the circus in Poland.

CARNAVAL SZTUK-MISTRZÓW

LUBLIN

Festival was created in 2010 as a continuation and expansion of the Conjurers' Festival that has been organized since 2008. Carnival was to become a great celebration for the whole city and the region. With its character and subject, it refers to Bachtin's concept of Carnival and to the centuries-old tradition of shared celebrations.

Carnival consists of several of modules - street performance, performances in tents and theatres, workshops, great parade, festival club, multidisciplinary projects, conferences, outdoor activities and the Urban Highline festival.

Over 100 activities in 4 days. 100 performances in the streets and in circus tents, over 100 artists, more than 200 slackliners and 150 thousand spectators. All these make Carnival Sztuk-Mistrzów the biggest festival dedicated to the art of the Contemporary Circus in Poland.

Urban Highline Festival is the biggest slacklining festival in the world and the only one organized in the historical part of town, in the Old Town. Every year, more than 250 slackliners from over 25 countries visit UHF.

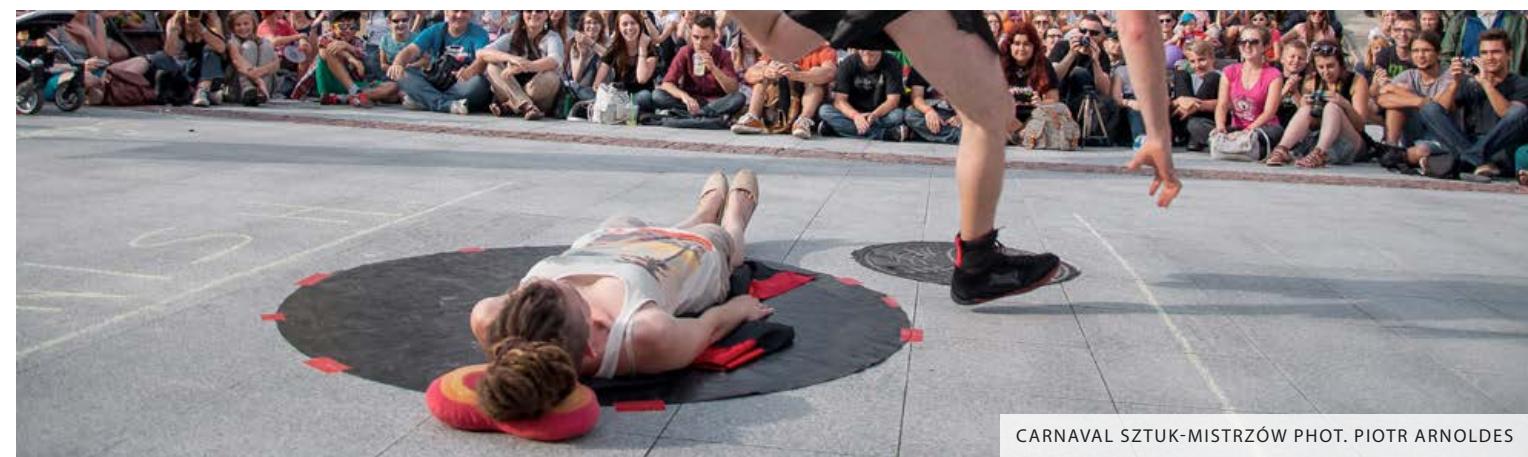

Carnival is an answer to the state of our culture that lacks events of social and ludic character that communities can experience together. Carnival Sztuk-Mistrzów provides an opportunity to create social bonds and inspires cultural expressions. It's not only a festival but a real identity-shaping urban celebration.

THE BONDS OF CULTURE (SPOIWA KULTURY)

SZCZECIN

Spoiwa Kultury is international festival created in 1999, which is presenting various forms of art mainly in open spaces. The organizer - Theatrical Center Kana seeks common elements connecting distant forms of artistic expression and various cultural spaces. Thus a term "street artist" is only a starting point, defining a certain kind of relation with spectators, a specific intensification resulting from their contact determined by the situation of presentation of art outside a theatrical building - in direct encounter with, often accidental, receiver. The festival attempt is to show that street art does not necessarily mean commercial art. The organizers intend to overcome stereotypes related to cultural differences and "exclusiveness" of the so-called higher culture. Every year the festival program includes outdoor and street performances, concerts, happenings, theatrical actions, exhibitions, workshops and film projections. Every edition is participated by approximately 150 artists, there are approx. 30 events, attended by approx. 10 000 people. In 2004 the organizers were prized with the "Reviewer's Eye" Award and in 2005 received the honorable title of Advocator of Culture.

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL OF STREET ART BUSKERBUSWROCLAW

BuskerBus takes place every year in August in 3-4 Polish cities (Wrocław + ...). About 50 street artists (buskers) participate: musicians, clowns, jugglers, fire gulpers, magicians, stilts walkers, circus artists, dancers. Both Polish and foreign performers are invited. A colorful group travels by a dedicated bus. All performances are free – though tips are presumably most welcome! "We are assuming that the festival shouldn't be only a collection of performing artists, as we often see, but a specific show, a uniform, multimedia composition." - Romuald Popłonyk – organizer and artistic director.

INTERNATIONAL STREET THEATRE FESTIVALJELEŃIA GÓRA

MFTU is the oldest festival of street theater in Poland, established in 1982 by the (at this time) director of the Norwid Theatre - Alina Obidniak. Since the first edition festival hosted many Polish and foreign groups like: Odin Teatret, Compagnie Jo Bithume, Plasticiens Volants, Collectif Organum, Living Theater. Festival is an incubator for young theater groups that come into contact with the classics of Polish and international theater, both: big shows and intimate performances. MFTU formula is still evolving. Since the 32nd edition takes place competition for The Scenario for Art in Public Space Performance, as well as Theatre People Running Contest, which connected Norwid Theatre with Theatre in Teplice. International Street Theatre Festival in Jelenia Góra cooperates with other festivals in Poland and Europe (Gorlitz Festival, 24 Ulica Festival in Krakow).

ULICA (STREET) - INTERNATIONAL STREET THEATRE FESTIVALKRAKÓW

Overview of street and outdoor theater, organized by KTO Theatre since 1988. Festival has permanently inscribed in the summer cultural calendar by changing the city of Cracow in a great open-air stage. Performances are presented primarily in the Main Square, however the organizers ensure that art exists in different spaces: squares, courtyards, parks - wherever there will be a random passerby. Ulica presents different arts and different forms of expression, from traditional shows to performances, from the momentary actions to work that permanently sets up in the city. Street Theatre Festival is a direct and immediate confrontation of artists and public.
