UK ARTISTIC RESIDENCY CENTRES

U
N
I
T

Following on from the two previous Circostrada Network directories listing residency centres in Belgium and France, this third publication collects information on UK artistic residency centres that specialise in street arts and circus or that host artists from these sectors.

Looking at all three publications it is important to understand that the word 'residency' has a different meaning in the UK than in Belgium and France. In the UK there are no circus or street arts centres dedicated to research as is the case in France. There are a small number of spaces, many of them venues, that can offer space, technical support, and sometimes financial aid, but usually this is arranged by invitation rather than open application. Outside of these few opportunities, artists must hire space for their creative work, as well as pay for a technician, and will usually apply for a grant or support from trusts and foundations to cover these costs.

Collected in this publication are the venues, spaces and organisations who support the creative process through provision of resources, as well as some spaces that artists and companies can independently hire for creation and rehearsals.

Note, however, that this publication is not an exhaustive list of residency sites, and that it will evolve and grow as new spaces and initiatives emerge.

Hors Les Murs

HorsLesMurs is the French national information centre for street arts and circus arts. Created in 1993 by the Ministry of Culture and Communication, since 2003, it has been the secretariat of Circostrada Network, European platform for the street arts and circus dedicated to information, observation and professional exchanges. Representing 48 members from 18 countries, the network is working to develop the structuring and recognition of these sectors in Europe.

Artsdepot

[PERFORMING, OUTDOOR and CIRCUS ARTS]

Types :

- > Residency centre for composition (development, research, experimentation)
- > Residency centre for creation (rehearsals, etc.)

Number of artistic companies hosted in 2011: 5 artistic associates

Number of Outdoor Arts / Circus Arts companies hosted in 2011: 1

List of Outdoor Arts / Circus Arts companies hosted in 2011:
Ockham's Razor

Presentation of the residency centre:

In 2013 Artsdepot is going to be part of a consortium called Circulate and will be developing a three year programme of work in Outdoor Arts. This programme of work is starting with a Outdoor Arts academy for local young people led by Emergency Exit Arts. 6 venues form part of the Circulate consortium including Artsdepot, Millfield Arts Centre, Harrow Arts Centre, Watermans Arts Centre, Tara Arts and The Albany who are overseeing the three year programme.

Circus Arts: Ockham's Razor are circus artists in residence and in 2012 the venue became a host venue for Circusfest, the Roundhouse circus festival. In addition Artsdepot is hosting a street circus community programme in collaboration with the Roundhouse.

They are a multi art form venue presenting performing and visual arts. Artsdepot is the only multi-art form venue in the London Borough of Barnet providing a diverse range of arts events and activities for local and London-wide audiences. Their participation programme supported by Middlesex University London provides 9,000 opportunities annually for children and young people to experience high quality arts education, and 5,000 for adults. In both 2009 and 2010, Artsdepot won the accolade of 'Best Neighbourhood Theatre' in the Love London awards voted for by listeners of Smooth Radio. Their business plan for 2012 – 2015 sets the mission 'to be a nationally recognised model of artistic excellence and accessibility'.

Artsdepot has a strong young people's offer, particularly working with hard to reach and vulnerable individuals aged 13 – 21. Their participation programme includes activity strands aimed at young refugees, young people with disabilities, young offenders and young people in pupil referral units. They also provide a mainstream youth theatre company and youth dance company and work in partnership with ten local primary schools engaging children in their productions and exhibitions. Projects for adults include an arts programme for women refugees and an amateur performing company. Artsdepot supports a number of Resident and Associate Artists with resources and mentoring and they also deliver an annual competition (Artsdepot Open) providing visual artists with an opportunity to win cash prizes and exhibit their work in a professional gallery.

In summer 2012 Artsdepot produced two large-scale events in a local park in Finchley as part of the Mayor of London's London 2012 Festival and aims to build upon this work over the next three years as part of the Circulate consortium. Artsdepot is also going to be ten years old in autumn 2014 and is working towards a celebratory anniversary season.

Bristol Ferment

[PERFORMING ARTS]

Types :

> Residency for research and development, mentoring, dramaturgical support, residencies, work in progress / scratch

Presentation of the residency centre:

Bristol Ferment is the name they give to the vibrant community of theatre-makers from Bristol and the South West with whom they support and develop exciting and adventurous new work. Within this 'ferment' it is their job to create a playful structure through which the best of these artists can explore their theatrical ideas in an ongoing dialogue with an audience.

Bristol Ferment is the artist development programme of the Bristol Old Vic. They run a year round bespoke artist development programme in conversation with the artists whom they support.

Residencies can be part of this support and are usually between 2 days and 2 weeks in length. They are open to any art form connected to the notion of performance – including Circus Arts.

Ferment is a year round programme and is punctuated by two Ferment Festivals in January and July which is where they gather a fortnight of scratch and work in progress performances in an informal and lively atmosphere that invites feedback directly from the audience.

Services offered to the artistic companies:

They can offer cash support for the development of new work. They very seldom offer technical support for residencies – everything and anything else not listed here is up for discussion.

Description of workspaces:

They have a variety of spaces some riggable and some not however, they often source space outside of their own building in order to accommodate work which would not otherwise be possible to undertake due to the limitation of the spaces. They received a grant from Esmee Fairbairn Foundation which is invested directly in artists, and is used to finance a bespoke programme of research and development, mentoring, dramaturgical support, residencies, work in progress / scratch, commissions and production.

Bristol Ferment also welcomes support from Bristol University.

Side cultural activities proposed:

They can offer public or private work in progress presentation, the potential to lead workshops and masterclasses.

Language to be used in applications:

English

Additional information:

They encourage any artist to get in touch with them – especially if they live or work in the south west of England – invite them to your work and you can find out more about what they potentially can do for you.

Presentation of the residency centre:

Founded over twenty years ago, Circomedia is an internationally-respected centre of excellence for Contemporary Circus and Physical Theatre training in Bristol.

Circomedia is unique because their training fully integrates contemporary circus, physical theatre, creative thinking and career know-how in their full time and part time courses. They are also dedicated to programming an eclectic and innovative variety of work at their Grade 1 listed church venue, St Paul's in Portland Square which also hosts corporate hire events, community events, evening classes, drop-in classes and their thriving youth circus.

Circomedia engage a variety of different audiences, artists, students, professionals and local communities with Circus Arts and physical theatre in an inspiring and accessible way.

Services offered to the artistic companies:

Circomedia offers artist support in kind to professional artists and amongst this support falls residencies.

Residencies can take place around the education programmes and classes that Circomedia run.

The residencies can vary from 2 days to 2 weeks of support and exclusive or shared use of riggable space to develop a show or training sharing space with students.

Residencies are open to anyone working in Circus Arts and physical theatre.

They very seldom offer technical support for residencies.

Description of workspaces:

They have a variety of space some riggable and some not.

Side cultural activities proposed:

They can offer private work in progress presentation as part of a residency, the potential to lead workshops and masterclasses.

In 2012 they hosted 4 circus companies.

List of Outdoor Arts / Circus Arts companies hosted in 2011:

In 2012 they hosted Gandini Juggling, Le Prato, Rouge Elea, Upswing.

Presentation of the residency centre:

Lighthouse is a creative organisation and an iconic building that plays an integral part in the delivery of Poole's arts strategy, as well as in the South West of England. They are passionate about providing opportunities for learning and participation across all ages, and specifically for children and young people.

Their stages offer professional artists, as well as amateur enthusiasts and community groups a place to perform and create work. They have an important role as a receiving venue for national and sometimes international touring work.

Lighthouse is Poole's cultural centre of excellence for live performance, film and visual art. Primarily they are a receiving theatre, but through PASS – The Circus Channel in particular, they are offering more and more residency opportunities for companies and artists.

PASS – The Circus Channel is a groundbreaking collaboration with eight French and English creation centres designed to support the development and touring of new contemporary circus, funded through the Interreg programme.

This project aims to increase the potential for the production of innovative new Circus Arts and develop a touring network to maximise audience. Developing and nurturing circus artists is their priority and they will be commissioning new work, organising artists' residencies and then touring the work to the venues. They hope to develop greater understanding of this artform.

This unique collaboration between France and the UK also aims to develop a network to share resources, exchange knowledge, and nurture artists in the exciting sector of contemporary circus.

UK Partners: Activate Performing Arts / Lighthouse, Poole, Farnham Maltings / Seachange Arts

French Partners: La brèche / La Renaissance / Cirque Jules Verne / Conseil général de la Manche

Services offered to the artistic companies:

Stratford Circus presents a rich and exciting programme of professional theatre; circus, music, comedy, dance, visual exhibitions and are a destination venue for local families with their inspirational children and family theatre programme "Circlets". Their mission is to inspire and engage people through the arts, using their centre as a place to catalyse artistic excellence, and showcase rising talent. They ensure that their artistic collaborations and high quality programme improve and enhance people's lives.

Artistic Programme

Circus is central to their artistic programme with a target audience of adults, children and increasingly families. Partnerships with organisations are developed over time and led by the artistic team (comprised of Director, Creative Producer and Head of Children's Programme).

Artistic Commissions

Artistic commissions focused on cultural diversity and young people are developed with producing partners. Currently they produce / co produce / co-commission one major production per year. Partnerships with organisations are developed over time and are currently led by the Director.

Artistic Residencies

Generally organisations hire Stratford Circus for a residency period. They are able to negotiate rates in exchange for audience development initiatives which enable their local communities to gain exclusive "behind the scenes" access to the creative and artistic process. Where there is mutual agreement, Stratford Circus can consider joint applications for funding to extend residencies to include specialist services such as accommodation, meals documentation, research, use of different workshop spaces, etc. Stratford Circus is an active and, in some cases, lead partner in several consortia and this both support and inform the development of the artistic programme:

- > Stratford Cultural Quarter – a partnership of venues clustered in Stratford
- > Stratford Rising – 20 Stratford based cultural organisations which has a bi annual outdoor festival
- > City Circ – national network supporting the development of Circus

- > Arts Centres Network – a signature organisation in the creation of a national network
- > Producing partnerships – 2012 with Sadler's Wells Theatre, East London Dance
- > Co-commissioner – 2011 Theatre Centre and Brolly Productions
- > Young Peoples Theatre – national network of promoters supporting young people's work
- > Presenting partnerships – 2012: LIFT, East London Dance, Barbican, Crying Out Loud
